School Merger Plan Dismissed By Supervisors

Efforts to secure the annexation of the Sierra Madre school district to Pasadena came to naught on Monday when the county supervisors dismissed the application. As a result Sierra Madre will continue to manage its own school affairs.

No counter petition was presented to combat the annexationists. It was found their petition was not only insufficient but not in accordance with the legal method of consolidating school districts. The method proposed had been used in a number of cases in the county. But it appears to have been an instance of "getting by" merely because nobody took the trouble to fight the proceedings.

So far no announcement has been made by County Superintendent Keppel as to the appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dean Shaw. Now that the annexation matter is settled it is presumed an appointment will be made soon.

CIVIC DINNER MONDAY NIGHT

October meeting of the Civic association will be held in the Woman's Club house Monday night, at 6:30. Dinner will be served by the Congregational ladies. Reservations should be made at the office of the association in the News building, phone Red 183.

A very interesting program is announced by President Doty. Mme. Glen Ferrin, contralto, will sing. Dennis H. Stovall, author and scoutmaster, will speak on civic improvements. The open forum, always an interesting feature, will be conducted by Geo. D. Johnstone. There will also be a 15-minute community sing.

Large Class of Candidates at O. E. S. Meeting

Six candidates were initiated into the Order of the Eastern Star at the meeting Monday night, the new members being Mrs. Margaret Sellers, Mrs. L. M. Rice, Mrs. D. C. Ashmore, Mrs. Katherine Schwartz, Miss Linda Schwartz and Miss Muriel Tarr. As further evidence of the flourishing condition of the chapter, ten new petitions for membership were received.

The meeting was attended by a large number of visitors from neighboring chapters. The line officers advanced for the degree work, Mrs. George B. Morgridge acting as matron, Mrs. Clyde Muskrath as associate matron, Mrs. M. J. Dickinson as conductress and Mrs. H. E. Long past matron, as associate conductress. The visitors were introduced to the chapter by Mrs. Convers L. Twycross, matron.

ANNUAL 1-CENT SALE NEXT WEEK

F. H. Hartman & Son announce in this week's News their annual 1-cent sale of the well known Rexall line of drugs and sundries. At this three-day sale two articles are sold for one cent more than the regular price of one. Last year's sale at Hartman's was one of the greatest merchandising events in the history of Sierra Madre and this will be eagerly awaited by a great many people.

FINE GOODS IMPORTED DIRECT FROM JAPAN

Charlie Nomura announces that he received his shipment of fine goods and other goods which he purchased while in Japan last summer. He will have them on sale next Monday at his residence, 31 E. Montecito. The shipment includes kimonos in silk and cotton crepe, table cloths, silk piece goods, silk stockings, smoking jackets, silk parasols, embroidery etc. The absence of the middleman's profits makes the sale very attractive. There are a number of articles especially nice and cheap presents.

MORRISON AND KENNGOTT SPEAK

Dr. G. H. Morrison will be the speaker at the morning service in the Congregational church next Sunday, in the absence of the minister, Dr. William A. Tate. The pageant which had been planned for that hour was postponed on account of illness and the absence of some participants. In the evening Dr. George F. Kennigott, superintendent of the Southern California Conference, will occupy the pulpit.

$100 FINE FOR RECKLESS DRIVER

Ray Faddis of Alhambra, 20 years old, was taken up by Officers Udell and Odwarker Sunday night for reckless driving, and fined $100 by Recorder Forman on Monday. After following his zigzag course for some time the officers decided he was too drunk to be allowed at large. No liquor being found, the reckless driving charge was preferred. The defendant's memory was blank as to what had happened when he woke up Monday morning.

U. S. C. POMONA GAME SATURDAY

With one hurdle successfully but not satisfactorily cleared, "Gloomy Gus" Henderson is busily engaged in remedying defects in his University of California eleven that showed up last Saturday when the Trojans were held to an 18 by 7 score by Caltech in the initial collegiate grid game of the Southern California season.

Needless to say, the showing of the 1923 Trojans in their first appearance was far from pleasing to rooters and writers who have been counting upon the Henderson machine to be strongly in the race for Pacific Coast Conference football title honors this year. Henderson is anything but satisfied with the Trojans' showing and is working his squad hard that it might put up a much improved game against Coach Eugene Nixon's Pomona Sageshens in the coliseum Saturday.

Big Norman Anderson, star Trojan tackle, will not, in all probability, get in the game against the Sageshens Saturday because of a badly wrenched knee suffered against Caltech. With Anderson out of the lineup, the Trojan defense will be weakened greatly, but it is thought that Fay Thomas, a Sophomore who showed up in great style at tackle during the latter part of the Caltech game, will be able to fill Anderson's place until the Nevada struggle rolls around. Ed Green, a substitute half back, was the only other Trojan injured in Saturday's game. Green had two of his front teeth broken off.

Henderson's biggest problem this year is his backfield. The defensive strength of the Trojans this year is even greater than last year's, but a powerful offensive is as yet missing. This perhaps was more pronounced against Caltech because the Trojans were using but three plays. However, even with the use of only three plays the regular varsity was able to score three touchdowns in the first half.

CLUB MEETS AT JOHNSON HOME

The Get Together Club of the Eastern Star ladies were entertained on Wednesday by Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Convers Twycross at the Johnson home, 180 N. Canyon Ave. The afternoon was devoted to social features and plans for fall activities. The meeting was made especially enjoyable by reason of the presence of Mrs. Kittie Buie and Miss Johanna Saenger, both of whom had been absent many months by reason of serious illness. Refreshments were served to about 30 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Humphries of Los Angeles were the dinner guests of Mr. Humphries' mother, Mrs. Catherine E. Humphries, of 81 East Grand View last Friday.

NEW CAFE ON CENTRAL AVE; BAKERY QUILTS

Peter Becronis and Peter Petro, former San Francisco restaurant men, have bought the lease of the McElroy brothers on the room occupied by Central Bakery, and will take possession Oct. 17 for the purpose of opening a cafe and lunch room.

The bakery business will be discontinued, the last baking being done tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McElroy and Ed McElroy have developed a fine business and will be missed from business circles, temporarily at least. Ed McElroy, however, will enter the employ of C. W. Millard as baker for the Sierra Madre bakery. The McElroys said they were not especially anxious to quit the bakery business they had built up but could not afford to turn down the offer of a bonus for their lease.

Messrs. Becronis and Petro are highly optimistic about the prospects for developing a good cafe business in Sierra Madre. They promise service so good it will bring business from out of town.

GIRL'S CORNER CLUB SUBJECT

The missionary meeting of Bethany church will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith, 609 W. Central Ave., on Friday evening (tonight) at 8 o'clock. Members of the congregation and their friends are cordially invited to come and hear Mrs. Frances L. Neth of the Girls' Corner Club of Los Angeles who will tell of her work among young business women.

LODGE MEETS NEXT TUESDAY

Although the master and senior warden of the Masonic lodge will be absent next Tuesday night, the lodge will meet as usual and confer the Fellowcraft degree on two candidates. The work will be in charge of D. C. Ashmore, junior warden.

Next week is the occasion for the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of California in San Francisco. The lodge will be represented by George B. Morgridge, master; E. L. Yerxa, senior warden, and W. J. Lawless, treasurer.

WEBSTER WITH G. A. R. VETERANS

E. J. Webster of 121 E. Alegria returned home Sunday after spending most of the summer at his lakeside home at Idyllwild in the Idaho mountains. Last month he attended the national encampment of the G. A. R., at Milwaukee. He went as the delegate of his post in Spokane, of which he was one of the founders 40 years ago. He reports the most remarkable hospitality to the veterans at Milwaukee.

THEATER GUILD IS ORGANIZED

The Woodland Theater Guild was organized on Wednesday at a meeting of the parents and friends of the children who took part in the children's play recently. The officers are Mrs. J. F. Key, president; Mrs. W. B. Corum, secretary, and Mrs. C. E. House, treasurer. There will be another meeting next Thursday to consider plans for the next play to be staged.

Irish Opera by German.

It is strange that one of the most "Irish" of Irish operas should come from a German musician, but it is nevertheless a fact that the typical Irish opera, "The Lily of Killarney," was composed by a German, Julius Benedict. But Benedict, says the Morning Post, was a clever man, and the Irish idiom in its broad aspect is easy to assume. While speaking with an Irish accent he said many beautiful things, and the airs "Eileen Mavourneen" and "I'm lone" would give distinction to any opera that dealt in melody, and sixty years have not dimmed the charm of Benedict's melodies.

ROBERT BENJAMIN MEDLEY

Sierra Madre's entrant in the most popular baby contest held in connection with the Elks Charity Circus at Monrovia from Oct. 6 to 13, inclusive, daily except Sunday.

Miss Edith B. Jones, of the Southern California Edison office, represents this community in the most popular ladies' contest. The local Elks are working hard to get support in putting these candidates over and both of them are said to be standing very high.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the charity circus, the tent is up and the program has been completed. The bill will consist of eleven high class professional circus acts. These have been drafted from the largest travelling circuses in the country. It has gone further than that and has secured from Cuba Senor Manuel Marcias, champion wire walker. This slender master of the silver strand presents the most thrilling feats that have ever been seen on the high wire, without the aid of a pole, umbrella or other paraphernalia for balancing purpose. After the program there will be free dancing.

SHAW-STOVER

The marriage of Miss Betty Shaw to Mr. Ralph Stover of Arcadia was solemnized last Monday evening at the Church of the Ascension. The Rev. William Carson Shaw performed the ceremony.

The bride was in white tulle over silver lace, and wore her mother's bridal veil. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas, bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The small flower girls were Frances Was, niece of the bride, and Alice Stover sister of the groom. They were both in pale green and white.

The matron of honor was Mrs. F. J. Was of Santa Ana, a sister of the bride. She wore white over green. The maid of honor was Miss Gwendolyn Jameson of Oakland. Her gown was of pale green.

The three bridesmaids were Miss Leila Kellogg, Miss Mary Jamison and Miss Viola Fennell. They were dressed alike in green and carried small French bouquets.

Hall Perry, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Ivan Buie of Sierra Madre, Fred Gray of Los Angeles, Moman Baber of South Pasadena and Harold Stover, brother of the groom.

The reception was held at the Parish house after the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William Carson Shaw of 45 East Laurel avenue and is popular among the younger set. She attended Pasadena high school.

Mr. Stover is the son of Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Stover of Arcadia. He is a member of the editorial staff of the Los Angeles Herald.

When Mr. and Mrs. Stover return from their wedding trip about Oct. 15 they plan to make their home at the Bella Vista terrace on North Mountain Trail avenue.

Thomas W. Neale has entered the local real estate field and opened an office at his residence, 197 N. Mountain Trail. Mr. Neale was for three years manager of the Monrovia office of the Western Union, but was required by the Veteran's Bureau to give up office work. His disability is the result of 27 months of service in France with the 5th Marine Division, including five major engagements.

PARK COMMISSIONERS EXPLAIN CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH THEY AGREE TO CARRY ON THE WORK

The following communication has been addressed by the members of the park commission to the city trustees and is the latest development in the situation following the trustees' request that the park commissioners withdraw their resignations and continue to serve:

October 4, 1923

The Honorable Board of Trustees, City of Sierra Madre, California.

A copy of the resolution regarding the resignations of the members of the board of park commissioners has been received.

We thank you for your expression of confidence in our ability to fulfill our duties in a manner satisfactory to the board.

In regard to our reconsidering our resignations, would say that before we take any such action we will expect the board of trustees to delegate to us certain powers as well as to give us certain assurances of support in the future.

In making this request, we wish at this point to call attention to the fact that we did not seek the positions of park commissioners at the time we were appointed; we simply acted as any public spirited citizens would who were asked to perform any public service. We are not especially anxious to continue on this commission for we feel that there are many others more capable of acting as park commissioners, and it is desired that you not look upon these requests as anything other than a statement of the conditions under which this commission (with average ability) will agree to proceed.

Authority in Details

We submitted a park plan outlining the general features of the park. You approved of this plan. We believe the details should be left to the board of park commissioners to work out, and not be subject to arbitrary change by the board of trustees.

If the recommendations of a park commission are not acceptable there is no need for that commission. No park can be planned or developed that will be acceptable to all the people of Sierra Madre, but to get action, some plan must be approved and adopted, and having been adopted by the board of trustees, they must delegate to the park commission authority to carry out those plans unhampered, and without interference from any party or organization.

To hold expenditures within the adopted budget, and to keep an accurate account of what each budget feature costs, such as tennis courts, lawns, sprinkler systems, etc., it is necessary that the board of park commissioners be in close touch with every bit of labor performed and all materials and supplies purchased or used in the park.

We wish to stress at this point the fact that the park commission does not wish to appear to be criticizing or finding fault with the park superintendent, Mr. Udell, but on the contrary wishes to commend him upon his labors and the spirit of co-operation with the board of park commissioners which he has shown on all occasions.

Conditions Specified

In view of the above, we request that the following working conditions be approved and adopted by the board of trustees in the form of ordinance, motion or resolution, as may be necessary to meet the legal requirements, and made a matter of record:

1. That the general features of the plan recommended by the park commissioners must be approved and adopted, and having been adopted by the board of trustees, they must delegate to the board of park commissioners authority to carry out that plan in detail (so long as it remains inside the adopted budget) unhampered, and without interference from any party or organization.

2. That the board of trustees amend the motion passed by them on July 12th, 1923, in re Woman's Club park committee, to read in the last part: "and the board of Park Commissioners will be glad to receive at any time suggestions from such park committee of the Woman's Club as to future development and management of the municipal park," instead of "and the Board will be glad to receive, etc."

3. That the park superintendent employ only such labor, other than the regular caretaker, as is specifically directed by the board of park commissioners.

4. That the park caretaker receive orders for work to be performed, outside of prescribed routine duties, only from the park superintendent in person and the board of park commissioners as transmitted by one of its members; in the event of conflict the orders of the park commissioners to have precedence.

5. That the board of trustees create the position of park caretaker and delegate to the board of park commissioners authority to prescribe the duties of such office, and that the commission be granted further authority to employ or discharge such park caretaker at any time, subject to the approval of the board of trustees at their next regular meeting following such action.

6. That the purchase of implements, materials, and supplies and the hiring of labor as authorized by the board of trustees be made only on order of the board of park commissioners.

7. That all bills and charges against the park funds be verified and approved by the board of park commissioners before they are submitted to the board of trustees for payment.

8. That the same credence and weight be given the opinions of the board of park commissioners on park matters as is now accorded the city health officer, the city engineer, the library board, and the heads of the other city departments in their respective fields.

Yours very truly,

CANYON LIGHTS SHINE TONIGHT FOR FIRST TIME

Residents of Canyon Park will have some visible evidence tonight that they really are living in the city of Sierra Madre. The 39 new street lights recently ordered have been placed in position and will be turned on for the first time, according to Street Superintendent Udell and Foreman Cochran of the Edison company. Many times in the past it has rather strained the imagination of the canyon folk to think they were really a part of Sierra Madre. With better water service, good street lights, and the street improvement plans progressing rapidly, things are changing rapidly for the better.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR NEWLYWEDS

Miss Florence Bandy and Mr. Louis Wicks did not take their friends into their confidence in advance of their recent wedding sufficiently to permit any of the social attentions usually accorded a prospective bride and groom. So, having surprised their friends, the latter are taking their turn now. On Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Wicks drove to Monrovia for a little visit with Mr. Wicks' father. During the evening about forty friends came in and presented to them a handsome floor lamp for their home.

Raymond Offers Splendid Bills to Open Season

The fervor and enthusiasm which greeted the Smith-King Players on their opening night last Monday and resounded a welcome which will never be forgotten by those who were fortunate to get seats for the event, has continued for all the performances thus far this week. It seems as if Southern California drama fans have simply declared a week of jollification and homecoming celebration and accepted the return of the company with open arms. Attesting the wonderful popularity of the company in this section of the country is the reception accorded each member of the company as he steps on the stage. It is the signal for continued and energetic applause which doesn't cease until he has taken several bows and made several attempts to go on with his part of the play.

Jane Urban is back with all her charm and magnetic personality and Pasadena is proud to claim one of the nation's cleverest leading ladies. Her third season with the company, she seems to improve with each bill. Dudley Ayres, beginning his second season with the organization, completes the leading team, which with justifiable pride can hardly be equalled anywhere where stock companies are playing. The remainder of the company, brought from the ranks of the most capable artists obtainable, includes Kathryn Wayne, Victor Donald, Betty Thayne, Virginia Thornton, Emmet Vogan, Frederick Dunham and John O'Connell.

Free Savings Account
Here is a chance for some energetic mothers to give their new born babe a right start in life.

Next week at the Raymond theater the Smith-King Players are presenting a farce-comedy, "It's a Boy." It is a very clever concoction of comedy, satire and sentiment on the first year of married life. There are laughs galore. So the company is offering to open a savings account with a one dollar deposit in any bank desired, to all baby boys born here during the run of the play next week.

Man Is Still The Greatest Destroyer

An earthquake killed a couple of hundred thousand people in Japan, and the world was horrified.

If there were a way to prevent earthquakes and save such ghastly loss of life, not to speak of painfully acquired property, the world would put it into effect without a second thought.

Catastrophes called natural, like earthquakes and storms, are dreadful. But they are not a hundredth part as dreadful as the catastrophes which man himself, by his fears and hates and greeds, brings upon the world.

The world war, which man set "nature," brought into being, slew ten million men—and as many more died from the plagues and famines and distresses which the war created. It cost two hundred billion dollars directly, and nobody knows how much more indirectly. Not all the calamities called natural in the history of mankind have killed as many people and destroyed as much property and bred as much woe as one war among men. Man cannot stop earthquakes. He can stop war.—Hemet News.

Survey Starts On San Gabriel Dam

That the first engineering crew went into San Gabriel canyon Monday and that as a result the big job of preliminary surveys and borings to bedrock is now started, was the cheering information given 200 members of the Associated Chambers at their dinner in El Monte Tuesday night by J. L. Matthews, editor of the Covina Argus, and with H. J. Evans of Monrovia and Dr. Koebig of Los Angeles, a member of the committee that waited on the board of supervisors and "brought home the bacon" in the form of a $50,000 appropriation for the preliminary surveys. The meeting was attended by S. R. Norris, George Norris and J. W. Jones of Sierra Madre.

Mr. Matthews declared that while the supervisors' appropriation was for $50,000, a greater amount will be allowed if the original figure proves inadequate. It is estimated that the survey, which will consist of driving tunnels into the solid rock on both sides and to bedrock in the bottom of the canyon, will require from eight months to a year to complete. It will be in charge of J. H. Ingram, general superintendent of the flood control district.

Will Be Biggest Dam
That the proposed San Gabriel dam will be the largest in the United States was the statement made by Mr. Matthews.

The structure will tower 425 feet above the present stream bed, will have an approximate thickness of 420 feet, and lateral dimensions of 700 feet at the base and 1800 or 1900 feet across the top.

Two million yards of concrete, equivalent to a weight of 4,000,000 tons, will be needed for its construction.

Protect Great Area
Construction of the dam at this point will remove the flood menace from 35 miles of the San Gabriel valley and will furnish protection for a potential population of more than 1,000,000. Behind the dam will be formed a lake measuring 10 miles from eastern to western extremity, with a shore line of nearly 30 miles, and with a storage of 210,000 acre feet of water.

The effect upon the irrigation interests in the lower country will be to replenish and recover the water plane in the drainage below the dam. In the early 90's artesian wells flowed above the ground on a territory below the dam comprising 100 square miles in extent. This artesian plane has constantly diminished, until last month artesian wells were flowing on a territory of but 23 square miles. The water plane where artesian wells once flowed has receded in some areas until it is now far below the surface of the ground. At Downey it has fallen 10 or 12 feet below the surface and at Boute wells, which at one time had a static head that raised 55 feet above the surface, is now 30 feet below. The city of Alhambra, the city of Long Beach and the Los Angeles pumping plant at Wilmington, all reported this year that they were pumping water from a depth of 15 feet lower than that of last year. The reason for this depletion or lowering of the water plane is given by Mr. Reagan as the increase or excess of pumping draft upon the gravel.

An estimate of $20,000,000 was by Supervisor Bean as the cost of the project. As a result of the 1914 floods and those recurring in other years, an actual damage of $20,000,000 has been suffered in lands affected by the San Gabriel watershed, and the assessed valuation of land in the Long Beach district alone was reduced $14,000,000 by the board of supervisors.

Witches.
Witches became officially dead by an act passed in George II's time, but pretending to exercise witchcraft was made a punishable offense. The last executions for witchcraft in England took place in 1716, when Mrs. Jane Wenlock and her daughter were hanged. The last in Scotland were in 1727. The act referred to was passed in 1735.

Farm Bureau Day At Fair

H. S. Bissell, president of the County Farm Bureau, states that the annual meeting of the farm bureau organization is to be held this year in conjunction with the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona. Friday, October 19th, has been set aside as Farm Bureau Day and a program arranged, a part of which consists of the annual meeting of the organization.

Following the hearing of reports from the officers the board of directors is to hold a session for the election of officers for the coming year.

The principal business matter to come before the annual meeting this year will be presentation of a new constitution and by-laws for adoption.

On Farm Bureau Day the cups and awards in the annual Dairy Cow Competition will be presented to the winners.

In commemoration of the Fair the October number of the Farm Bureau monthly is to be a special Fair and review number. It will contain the official program of the Fair and brief reviews of the work of the organization for the past year.

Mrs. Ella M. Lindeman passed away Friday at her home, 248 San Gabriel Court. Mrs. Lindeman was born in Milwaukee in 1879, and had lived in Lamanda Park a long time. Besides her husband, John H. Lindeman of Lamanda Park, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Helen Marshall of Lamanda Park, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loessler of Seneca, Kans., three brothers, Frank G. Loessler of Lamanda Park, Geo. W. Loessler of Hysham, Mont., Lawrence W. Loessler of Seneca, Kans., and two sisters, Mrs. Marie Addams of Downs, Kans., and Mrs. Agnes Vroman of St. Joseph, Mo. OREGON SCHOOL LAW TEST GETS WIDE ATTENTION

Washington, Oct. 4 (Capital News Service).—The Oregon school law, which may be taken to court for a test as to constitutionality, attracts much attention from national capital educators.

That the law is misquoted by its enemies and not well understood by the general public is contended by its friends, who maintain that it will not, as charged, abolish the private school.

In support of this contention the phrases of the law are quoted, in which it is said, not that a child may not attend a private school, but that parents or guardians must send children to the public school during its term. Nothing is said about not sending a child to a private school at other times. A further quotation showing that the private school is not eliminated by the law reads that "in the following cases children shall not be required to attend public schools...."

"Any child who is being taught for a like period of time by the parent or a private teacher such subjects as are usually taught in the first eight years in the public school; but before such child can be taught by a parent or a private teacher, such parent or private teacher must receive written permission from the county superintendent and such permission shall not extend longer than the end of the current school year. Such child must report to the county school superintendent or some person designated by him at least once every three months and take an examination in the work covered. If, after such examination, the county superintendent shall determine that such child is not being properly taught, then the county superintendent shall order the parent, guardian or other person to send such child to the public school the remainder of the school year."

BANKING SYSTEM

By CRAIG B. HAZLEWOOD
President Association of Reserve City Bankers

Conceived in the spirit of common good, for the best interests of government, banks and public alike, based on broad and correct principles relating to the nation's currency and credit, the Federal Reserve System represents the greatest piece of economic legislation enacted by an American Congress.

C. B. Hazlewood

The System's record of achievement through a world war, an inflation period of dizzy heights, and months of serious and costly liquidation. It is a matter of greatest importance that very earnest and patriotic thought be given to the two questions: How far has the system succeeded, and in what particulars has it failed, to give our country as strong and as useful a financial system as human mind can devise?

The hope and expectation of those who framed the Federal Reserve Act that the machinery set-up for the origination, distribution and automatic retirement of currency issue, which should be entirely responsive to the needs of trade and the varying conditions of business, have been wonderfully well realized. Every possible effort must be exerted to preserve the Federal Reserve System from political alliance and to keep its powerful influence entirely devoted to the building up of the greatest banking system in the world.

The first bank of the United States was established in 1791 and failed to obtain a renewal of its charter in 1811, the opponents charging that the bank was a "money trust" controlled by foreigners, a tool in the hands of the Federalists, and that the act chartering the bank was unconstitutional. Note the use of the words "money trust." We have the idea that this is a modern term. The suspicions which animate the demagogue today have not changed in a century.

The second bank of the United States was chartered in 1816 and failed to obtain a renewal of its charter in 1831, the reasons being a widespread belief that the bank was unconstitutional, the hostility of the states, the opposition of the state banks, the rise of democracy, and the envy and hatred which the poor always feel toward the rich.

Both banks functioned well and accomplished much for the country during crucial times. The downfall of both was caused simply and solely by attempts to place the determination of banking policies in the hands of political authorities.

The delicate handling of currency and credit, to the high end that the best interests of all may be served with special privilege to none, cannot be left to others than those who are competent through proven judgment and experience. The danger of politics in the Federal Reserve System is a real one; upon us is placed the grave responsibility of forever keeping the great system clean.

MAKING CAPITALISTS OUT OF WORKMEN

Festus J. Wade Says Anarchy Disappears With the Development of Thrift.

When the savings pass-book comes into a man's life to stay the red flag goes out. What the country needs is to bring about a condition whereby the man who works with his hands shall take the same interest in his affairs as the capitalist does in his. Probably the best way to do this would be to turn the workman into a capitalist. And this is exactly what he becomes when he saves his money and builds up a reserve fund. He remains a capitalist as long as he holds on to that money. The satisfaction of seeing his money reserve mount up will discourage the waster to take a layoff now and then. It will encourage him to work a full six-day week and thereby increase the labor hours applied to production.

The American people can solve any problem they set themselves to. We provided for a sound currency when the greenbackers and inflationists were routed and the gold basis established. The Federal Reserve Bank was established and solved a problem for which most people thought there was no solution. A number of years ago, when there was a crisis or when a bank failed, we all used to shut up our vaults tight and let nothing get out. Instead of bettering conditions we made them worse. Now if failures occur few people, except those directly interested, are disturbed.

Perhaps the most important problem of all right now is to do away with labor waste. It never can be done by preaching, by agitation or by force. It can be done by selling the workman on the idea of becoming a capitalist. This can be brought about by the right kind of bank advertising. Who is there to say that an advertising dollar bringing about this result would not be a constructive dollar?—Festus J. Wade.

REAGAN HAS AMBITIOUS PLANS FOR RESERVOIRS

County Flood Control Engineer
Would Impound Storm Water
Now Going to Waste.

Vast plans for the flood protection and irrigation of Los Angeles county cities and agricultural lands are now under way, according to maps and plans recently issued from the office of J. W. Reagan, Chief of County Engineer. No less than ten gigantic reservoirs are contemplated, including the immense San Gabriel reservoir, which will be 400 feet deep, seven miles long and will contain when full 279,351 acre-feet of water. These figures are so tremendous that it is difficult to grasp them.

This would be a little less than 90,000,000,000 (ninety billion) gallons of water and the project becomes one of the greatest irrigation schemes ever hatched in the brain of man.

The massive dam near Camp Rincon necessary to hold this enormous volume of water back would have to be of colossal proportions and would cost $20,000,000. The structure, engineers figure, would be about 421 feet thick at the base, 241 feet in the middle and 25 feet thick at the apex of the dam, which would tower not less than 525 feet above the floor of the San Gabriel Wash below.

Both branches of the San Gabriel river would be entirely inundated the year around. There would be no more Camp Rincon, Bear, North Fork, Burro, Suzanna, or Graveyard canyons. Present roads would be hundreds of feet below the surface of a vast mountain lake.

Camp Bonita would be a few feet above the level of the water, but Coles, Baileys, Williams, Follows and other camps would be play grounds for myriads of fish.

The benefits accruing from this vast structure, when completed, could hardly be overestimated, it is said. Cities now using San Gabriel water would retain all their rights and could have as much more water as is needed.

Towns like Azusa, Duarte, Covina, El Monte, Sierra Madre, Glendora and Pomona would experience unprecedented booms, it is thought, from the fact that water rates would be lowered and unlimited quantities could be used which now not only run to waste every winter but do vast damage as well.

It is claimed that the $20,000,000 required for the greatest dam in California would be saved to the San Gabriel valley towns the very first year after the completion of the dam.

Other large projects include the Tujunga dam, 90,000 acre-feet; the Sheep Corral Reservoir at Pasadena, 10,830 acre-feet; the Puddingstone Reservoir, near LaVerne, 20,000 acre feet; the Eaton Canyon, the Santa Anita canyon and the Sawpit or Monrovia canyon reservoirs.

The city of Los Angeles may also build a dam along the Tujunga wash southwest of the Tujunga Reservoir, capable of holding back 14,000 acre-feet of water.

Altogether these dams will impound more than 400,000 acre-feet of water, enough for the additional needs of the county and city, it is thought, for many years to come.

The following letter was received on Tuesday by Dean William Carson Shaw, who resigned recently as a member of the board of trustees of the Sierra Madre school district: Rev. W. C. Shaw, Sierra Madre, Calif., Dear Friend:

Your resignation dated August 31, 1923, has been received and has been placed on file and is accepted as per your request. The appointment of a successor has been delayed temporarily, awaiting conclusion of the discussion as to whether the school district will be annexed with Pasadena or will continue as an independent organization.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT SOUGHT FOR UNIVERSITY

Citrus growers of Los Angeles county, at the first annual meeting of the Citrus Growers department of the Los Angeles County Farm bureau, passed a resolution expressing their desire for the development of agricultural education of university grade in Southern California to meet the particular needs of the region, and expressing their belief that such work should be developed as a part of the Southern Branch of the University of California.

With the establishment of a third year of work at the Southern Branch this year, the institution is on its way to become a full fledged university. It is felt by many that to meet the needs of all Southern California the institution should be moved out from the heart of the city of Los Angeles to some near-by spot where sufficient land can be obtained for future growth and where work of the College of Agriculture and other colleges can logically be developed.

Will Interest New Factories In L. A. Suburbs

An industrial drive that promises to be of great benefit to all the cities and towns of Southern California has just been launched by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

A fund of not less than $300,000 is to be raised by the chamber through subscriptions of its members who number over 10,000. The purpose is to interest manufacturers in other sections of the country in building main or branch factories in Los Angeles or in nearby sections of Southern California.

The facilities and needs of each community will be presented with equal fairness by the Los Angeles chamber and it is desired that all cities and communities who would share these benefits will cooperate in exploiting this great plan to bring about "balanced prosperity."

Selling the West to the East

Part of the fund will be used in defraying the expenses to the coast of engineers and utility experts employed by eastern concerns and giving them an opportunity of making a personal survey of the conditions for manufacturing activities in this section of the country.

Experts in industrial affairs also will be sent east for the purpose of selling Southern California to eastern manufacturers.

Liberal subscriptions already are being received in response to a circular letter signed by President W. T. Bishop, sent to members of the Chamber of Commerce, and which said in part:

Preserving a Balance

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in analyzing the future begs leave to lay before you certain conditions which in our estimation should be given full consideration at this time if our development is going to be such as to give us a balanced prosperity.

In the last several years through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce a very large industrial development has been brought about through the very hardest kind of work and much has been accomplished in laying the foundation for even a greater development in the future.

We must frankly recognize the fact, however, that to handle this industrial development as it should be, requires a much larger amount of money than the Chamber of Commerce is able to gather through its regular sources, as the subject is one which must be developed with the assistance of highly trained and skilled men, and what would have sufficed to bring on an industrial development several years ago, will not do for the present time. High priced engineers must be employed. High powered salesmen must be sent to the east and this expense must be cheerfully borne by Los Angeles if we want to guarantee the future of this city against its becoming one-sided or top-heavy. It is our opinion that by laying a huge industrial foundation to our rapid growth can we hope to bring about a stabilized prosperity here.

Stabilizing Values

In order to maintain values of real estate, houses and lots must be occupied by people who are permanently employed and the great rush of population which is now coming to Southern California, and to Los Angeles particularly, must be sustained by profitable employment.

Their source of income must not rely entirely upon those conditions which may be abnormal, and as business men, we surely must recognize that this rapid expansion needs and demands the stabilization of an equally rapid industrial growth. Industries that are now here must grow and expand and provide additional employment, and new industries must be brought here. The sons and daughters of our rapidly growing population must not be forced to look elsewhere for employment.

We are firmly of the belief that Los Angeles has a splendid industrial future ahead of it, but we must not overlook the fact that other Pacific Coast cities are spending great sums of money to attract industries to their locality, and we must not assume that because of certain natural conditions which attract population to us that these same conditions will attract industry.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is getting together a fund to accomplish this work—to make further exhaustive studies of raw materials and their possibilities for manufacture—to make exhaustive market and distribution studies of various commodities which should and can be manufactured here—to check up the traffic situation for the benefit of Los Angeles—and to sell our industrial possibilities back east by direct and personal contact, through the medium of capable men; in fact, to analyze every field of endeavor and to put this analysis to practical use to provide employment for our people.

In communities growing as rapidly as this one there are always possibilities of depressions which come sometimes totally unforeseen. Our growth which now seems so assured might easily be sharply curtailed by conditions which, seemingly beyond our control, can through properly organized methods be controlled in the same manner as we would control our business affairs. It is not enough to realize that it must grow in certain directions to keep prosperity continuous, and it is our duty to weld this structure into such shape as will bring this result about.

We would not have you believe that the Chamber of Commerce views the future of Los Angeles with alarm, but its board of directors is frankly concerned that nothing shall be left undone which our own good judgment and common sense tells us must be done, if we are to have continuous prosperity, which is ours if we but intelligently provide it.

ON CHEAP MONEY

Widows and Orphans Among Chief Losers From Unsound Currency.

E. E. AGGER CITES EXPERIENCE

Speculators Rather Than Investors and Producers Win From Currency Depreciation.

The losses and costs borne by the government and the people of the United States from unsound money experiments, from colonial times down, doubtless total more than our staggering World War appropriations. It is declared by E. E. Agger, an authority on economics, in the Journal of the American Bankers' Association. "Cheap money," he says, is very costly, since frenzied finance, speculation and business disaster have invariably followed in the wake of unsound currency. He cites historical experience showing that widows and orphans were among the chief sufferers.

"New generations of adults, like children, have to learn over and over again that, when playing with fire, one runs the risk of being burned," Mr. Agger says. "Indulging currency heresies constitutes such an adult playing-with-fire. A glance over our own historical experience would demonstrate this to the most ardent 'easy money' advocate, but such advocates are usually those to whom history is 'bunk.'"

Soft Money Advocates Seek Profit

"Unfortunately those who are willing to kindle the kind of conflagration involved in 'soft-money' experimentation are not the only ones hurt. Indeed, they may extort an advantage for themselves. But the record is all too clear concerning the mass of people. Heavy losses, injustice, disorganized production and numerous other evils are inevitable.

"Unsound money projects impose heavy costs on the government itself. The first effect of cheap money is to raise prices. Mounting prices mean that, to meet its needs, the government must appropriate always larger sums. Again, dallying with unsound money weakens the government's credit. Prospective bond buyers become hesitant when currency depreciation is threatened, because there is danger of agitation toward the payment of government obligations in the cheaper money rather than in specie. Any such weakening of government credit means lower prices received for bonds, consequently greater burdens on the Treasury. Assuming that, in the end, sound principles triumph, the indulgences of the unsound currency days leave further costs to be met. If paper money has been issued it must be redeemed. If a government be unwilling to stoop to repudiation it must raise much more in taxes to pay for the paper money than it received at the time of issue."

The total effect of paper issues in increasing the cost of the Civil War is estimated at about $600,000,000, Mr. Agger says, continuing:

"Much more serious than the costs of unsound currency to the government are the heavy direct and indirect costs imposed upon the people. Our productive system is controlled through prices, and the upset of prices, caused by a depreciating currency, interferes with the proper harmonizing of the different lines of production. Price changes are not instantaneously or uniformly effected throughout the whole system. The result of an inflationary movement is a stimulation of speculation and over-investment in some lines, with inadequate development in other lines. The period of speculation seems a period of prosperity, but how false and unsound is such prosperity is disclosed in the stress and agony of the inevitable period of liquidation which, Nemesis-like, follows on the heels of the boom."

Sierra Madre class at last has a restaurant.

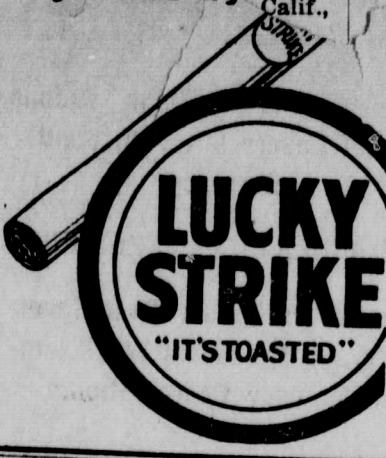

Those in Sierra Madre who are so unfortunate, or fortunate, as the case may be, as to be without a wife or a cook in the home, need no longer mourn. No need to crank up Lizzie and flit away to some suburb of Sierra Madre like Pasadena or Monrovia or Alhambra for a good dinner. Not so's you can notice it—nay, nay, Pauline.

The Busy Bee is open and doing business morning, noon and night, with short orders in between. And—get this—here is one busy bee without a stinger. You can't get stung on any orders from soup to nuts. Prices and service are superior to anything before offered in this city.

Three months ago Charles Ellis left Huntington, West Virginia, on a pleasure trip. For 18 years he had been identified with the business activities of that mining metropolis, and a measure of success had come to him, enough to warrant a vacation. He came to Southern California and here in Sierra Madre he saw an opportunity, which he appreciated. He bought out Clarence Garrett's restaurant in the Rainier Hotel on Baldwin avenue, junked practically everything and built the place up from linoleum to overhead lighting. He also bought the Beauty Shop lease and turned the two rooms into one large dining hall. Then he added a coat or two of paint, after remodelling the front, and now he is serving scores where previously but a few took their meals.

Vernal Dreams.

"Farming is a great life," remarks an exchange. "It is a positive joy to sit and look at the water, the clear moon streaming over the hills, the trees bursting into bud, the wild flowers peeping through the greening grass." Ay, truly farming would be a great life—if that were farming.—Boston Transcript.

Gives That Impression.

Maud—"What a beautiful new gown Helen is wearing. Says it's imported, doesn't she?" Marie—"Not exactly in those words. It's her last season's dress; the dressmaker has turned it inside out, and now she says it's from the other side."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Well, Why Should We?

"As a general thing," says an exchange, "we don't find fault with a woman's inconsistency until we have been made a victim of it."—Boston Transcript.

Everyday— Every month

YOUR health will be better, your housekeeping expenses less, your comfort greater—IF, you take ice regularly throughout the year.

Even in cooler months, the few hours warmth at noon every day is sufficient to start germ-growth and deterioration in many foods, unless they are kept in the cold, even temperature of your ice box.

This spoilage—often imperceptible to you—results in wasted food and sometimes in serious illness.

SNAIL PEST IN CITRUS GROVES

During the past month a report was received from the Sierra Madre section to the effect that a large number of snails has been found in citrus orchards in Pasadena. As is known in California, snail infestation is a serious pest in the citrus industry. For several years, periodically snails have constituted a serious pest in the Rivera section. The Horticultural commissioner for several years has been studying the problem and advises that where moisture conditions are favorable, the use of poison bait is recommended as highly effective. One of the most satisfactory repellants found to date is bordeaux paste. It has been shown that painting the trunks of the trees with bordeaux paste will very effectively prevent the snails from infesting the trees.—Farm Bureau Monthly.

Eldred Yule, son of Mrs. H. G. Laage, has opened a fine fur department in connection with the T. W. Mather company of Pasadena. He has been associated with the Willard H. George Co., of Los Angeles, for several years, gaining valuable experience and now ventures upon an enterprise of his own. His interest in furs goes back to boyhood days when he began trapping wild animals in the mountains near Sierra Madre and selling pelts. That youthful pastime has led him to a high degree of success in the business.

NEWS WANTADS PAY

A Better Oil Even if it does cost less

It isn't what you pay but what you get in lubrication that counts. Thousands of laboratory and road tests have proved that Zerolene oils and greases reduce friction and wear to a greater extent than any other motor lubricants we have seen and tested or been able to produce.

Zerolene oils form on an average 30% less carbon than other motor oils. They form less carbon than any other motor oils known to us.

And because Zerolene gives better lubrication continuously, the Zerolene lubricated automobile averages 5% more mileage from the gasoline consumed.

Insist on Zerolene even if it does cost less.
